World's Largest X-Country Skis

A community from beginning to end, with help from corporate sponsors Swix poles and Karhu skis. The ski set came in two parts, however, both skis and poles were designed by local draftsman Bryant Hollins of Exco Industries.

Unofficial Recognition

The Guinness Book of World Records was contacted in 1996 by ski project coordinator Lance Willis for official recognition, however they do not have such an entry available in the records. hence the skis have an unofficial designation. Despite the unofficial designation, this doesn't detract from the impressiveness of the skis themselves.

X-Country Ski Specifics

The giant skis are over 36 feet in length, weigh over 600 pounds each, and are worth close to $3500.00. The Swix poles came several months later. They measure nearly 27 feet 8 inches and weigh 175 lbs. each. All of the fabrication work was done by Exco Industries. Hillcrest Auto Body did the initial paint job, and sign painter Judy Copland did the detail work. Original Log Homes put up the ski rack and BC Hydro supported in raising the ski & poles.

The Skis were dedicated by Rick Hansen on his "MAN IN MOTION" TOUR. See the plaque outside for more information.
